

The author of a children's' music program, Smart Kids Keyboard Course and the founder of MW Fine Arts Academy, Shok Meng's teaching goal is to motivate and nurture young talent. Shok Meng believes in a holistic approach in education, with equal emphasis on performance and music understanding, and that musical style should be enhanced through concerts, workshops and competitions.

Shok Meng is a former chief instructress in Yamaha Music School and was also the appointed Clinician for Alfred Publishing Company, conducting public seminars and workshop in Singapore, Malaysia and Hong Kong.

Shok Meng performed actively in two-piano recitals, many of which were charity projects. The most recent was held in 2002, organized by ASME Women Entrepreneur Chapter, with Singapore's late President Mr. Ong Teng Cheong as the Guest-of-Honor. In recent years, she also performed as part of a Piano Trio in key events in Singapore including Eden Hall, at the British High Commissioners' Residence, the Tanglin Club, St. George's Church and American Club. The Trio did a CD recording entitled String East Singapore. All of the sales proceeds went to the Mission to Seafarers charity.

Shok Meng is an Early Childhood trainer and practicum supervisor at the SEED institute since 2016. She is also the Principal and Director of MW Fine Arts Academy.

Shok Meng is the member of Board of Directors – IPVAEB and Academic Advisory Board.
